Art Unit: 1761

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 28-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. There is no support in the original disclosure for the starch consisting essentially of a sago starch. Correction is required.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 9-15, 19-25 and 28-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Eden et al. Applicant is referred to the reasoning set forth in the Board of Appeals decision of March 22, 2006 (paragraph bridging pages 8 and 9, pages 10-12, page 13, lines 1-10, the last paragraph on page 14, page 15, 2d paragraph and the paragraph bridging pages 15 and 16).

5. Claims 9, 16, 17, 19, 26 and 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the combined teachings of Eden et al, Jeffcoat et al, Park and Yuan.

Art Unit: 1761

Applicant is referred to the reasoning set forth in said Board decision (paragraph bridging pages 13 and 14 and the first paragraph on page 15).

6. Applicant's arguments filed April 21, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Although none of Eden et al's examples use sago starch, Eden et al clearly expresses a preference for using sago starch as a viable alternative to those starches used in the examples (col. 6, lines 45-49). Thus, Eden et al does not teach away from using sago starch, as applicant suggests, and it is not necessary for Eden et al to recognize that sago starch is superior to other starches, as applicant contends.

The 132 declaration of Hanchett is equally unconvincing since Eden et al explicitly recognizes that sago starch is substantially equivalent to other starches in the process and product described in Eden et al. Further, since Eden et al's sago starch has the same physical properties as applicant's claimed sago starch, it is obviously apparent that the gel strength and gelling time of both applicant's sago starch and that of Eden et al are equivalent.

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
